It Happened in a Drug Store.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I considered that a very good recommendation for the remedy." It is for sale by A. R. Kane.

A great many foolish, harmful articles are printed in some of the journals of the country. The accounts of prize fights, of murders and scandals familiarize people with crime. As harmful, perhaps, are the records of extravagance indulged in by some wealthy people. For example, recently a metropolitan daily gave a long account of how an American millionaire in London had expended over $600,000 in fitting up a bed room in that metropolis. Some of the decorations and trimmings used were more costly than gold. Such extravagance would not be indulged in but for the publicity that the shallow headed spend-thrift expected to gain. Another American borne dude, whose father left him a lot of money, served a $10,000 dinner in Paris to 20 distinguished citizens, hoping in this way to secure an entrance into palaces and newspaper mention. Of the two characters, the prize fighter and the snob, the last is the least entitled to respect. The very rich should be encouraged to spend their money, but they should do good rather than harm with their money. More than one proud, mighty nation has gone down to ruin and humiliation on account of the criminal selfish extravagances of some of her families. We have some splendid rich men, men who honor labor and despise snobbery. If the people would manifest their disgust over the exhibits of the two classes described, America would have a more stalwart, self-respecting people.

LOST IN THE NINTH—OR FIRST.

A Brilliant Game Between the Baxter Brigands and the Kansas City Blues.

One of the most interesting games ever perpetrated on any diamond was played last Tuesday by the famous Kansas City Blues and the well known Baxter First Nine. It was a close game from start to finish and was well contested by the Baxter club to the last. Bets were even up to the ninth inning, when by an unaccountable decision of the umpire—a wild throw by Coffey to second—a "fan" by Half back Lathrop, a foul miss by McDonald, and a passed ball by Boone the game and gate money were given to the Blues.

The Blues presented nine as fine specimens of the American athlete as one would wish to see. They are quite uniform in size, well hardened by constant exercise, and by their skillful display of the fine points in the game showed they were men of brains as well as brawn. Messrs Cross and McDonald, who arranged the game, are entitled to great credit and the thanks of the community for giving our people a chance to see such a fine exhibition right at home. Dungan alone was worth the price of admission. He is the champion batter of the American league and one of the finest all around players in America.

While we deplore the fact that Baxter did not win (and she would have won had it not been for the fowl decision of the umpire), we are glad our boys had an opportunity to play with a club something near their equal in intellect and muscle.

An impartial umpire is not all the Baxter boys require to lay out the hobos of Columbus, Galena and Keelville. They should give the rules more attention and practice the intricate points so as to be able to make an occasional double play. They should show more courage in facing a swift pitcher so that they may acquire his curves and knock the pig skin off the regulation three times out of five. Our boys are naturally base ballists and with proper energy and culture and religious training will in time become as famous as "Slide Kelly," "Casey at the bat," "Old Man Anson," or Dungan, the champion batter of Kansas City.

The score stood 13 to 1 against Baxter, but if there had been one or two more innings and a Baxter umpire the score would have been reversed.

"YOU'LL HAVE TO HURRY."

That's a new expression that persons just from Southwest Missouri are importing. There, they say, it is all that's heard. It's origin is not given, but it has taken a strong hold on every one and is the "gag" of the day. At the Springfield street fair it was worked overtime, and the cowboys in the roping contest were set crazy by its incessant repetition. Every time one started for a steer he was greeted with the hated expression in grand swelling chorus, and frequently he was so upset by it that he lost his nerve entirely.—Kansas City Journal.

The expression was started by an enterprising fakir, the manager of Bosco, the snake eater.

The News office rather knocks them all out on sale bills, horse bills and fine job printing. We would like to have the farmers compare our sale bills with those printed at other offices. We not only have the type and material, but we get in the artistic touches cross roads printers do not possess. There are lots of better printers than we in the printing business and some of them may be George Washington's, but the farmer who wants a sale bill or jack diploma does not care for patriotism, morality or the sunbeam sort of christianity. He wants good, wholesome artistic work in clear type, white paper good ink and skillfully displayed. And that's the sort of work we do at the News office.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion and biliousness; doctors were scarce and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Sold by DeWitt & Thompson.
